

WESTERN UKRAINE: EU AND NATO MEMBERSHIP SUBSCRIPTION

Although President of the European Commission Jean-Claude Juncker has advised Ukraine not to hope for EU and NATO membership in the coming 20 to 25 years, Ukrainian officials are choosing to be positive. 144 claims that the EU representatives had made against this country were fulfilled, which means in the eye of Poroshenko that visa-free regime is just in Ukraine's pocket. But a visa waiver program is only a small step towards becoming a full member of the European family of nations. All this way promises to be long and thorny. Ukrainian authorities are ready to overcome obstacles; they have no dread of any difficulties and do not stop talking about it, watching word with action. A striking example of this is mutual relations between Ukraine and Poland.

Essentially, Warsaw has never hidden its desire for having lands of Western Ukraine back under its control. But now that Kiev tries with all persistence and insistence to win the impenetrable stronghold of NATO and EU, reclamation claims of Polish authorities are increasingly being heard and beginning to resemble unvarnished demands.

'If Ukraine wants to enter the European Union, then most certainly, Law adoption on Restitution will be one of the conditions for it', says a member of the Polish political party KORWiN Liliya Moshechkova. 'Without Lviv, the city which has always been loyal to Poland, no Polish people', concretizes Senator from the ruling party Law and Justice Jan Zharin. Not very long ago, we were, to say the least, perplexed by this. But now it is the most natural, normal thing, which is phlegmatically received by Poroshenko's team. Does that mean the country's top executives have gone with it and are ready to make concessions?

outbreak of World War II. The main value of this document, initiated by Chairman of Verkhovna Rada Andriy Parubiy is condemnation of the Molotov-Ribbentrop Pact and decisions of the 1945 Yalta Conference. Thus, in fact, the deputies acknowledged that Ukraine had received the country's western regions illegally, which means that now Poland has the reason to require the redrawing of national borders. The deputies could be accused of stupidity and unwillingness to have just a quick look at what they voted for, except for one thing – the Declaration of Hope.

Declaration of Hope

Verkhovna Rada's approval of Declaration stating that the USSR is responsible for the outbreak of World War II has generated unhealthy interest both in Ukraine and abroad. Let me remind you that this is the Declaration of Solidarity. And besides Ukraine, it should be approved by parliaments of two other republics: Poland and Lithuania. So, what is this document about? It has documented for the very first time and at the highest official levels between three European countries that the Molotov-Ribbentrop Pact of August 23, 1939, became a direct-acting detonator that led to the explosion of the Second World War, which started from Hitler's Germany aggression upon Poland, and then, Stalinist regime of the USSR attacked Poland. As a result of this war, Communist dictatorship was established in a number of countries in Eastern Europe.

The negative response of Russia, as a successor country to the USSR, is quite understandable. President Putin never made a secret that he considers the breakup of "Evil Empire", which has given rise to his personal growth, was a huge tragedy. The tendency to revive Stalin's cult of personality that is gaining momentum in current Russia receives tacit support from the country's authorities. On the other hand, even the most marginal European political forces who wish to break down the unity that had been reached and maintained so hard in Europe, have the backing of Kremlin. In this context, Ukraine that has signed the Declaration serves as shield of European values and bastion of the Western World that separated it from the drugged with propaganda and vicious neo-Bolshevist hordes. After all, the main fight against actively reviving "Evil Empire" is under way, and not on the field of battle, but in media and public relations activities. It is necessary to cross "the Rubicon" of over-years lying and deceit and make it impossible to return mentally to Soviet ideologemes, established for the purpose of subjugation of free peoples.

Prophet Moses had been wandering with his people in the desert for 40 years so that generation of mental slaves could die off. We don't have that load of time. And just because of it we are awaiting not only words of encouragement, but certain steps by our European friends. Since Maidan, it has become clear that Ukrainians are ready to accept any sacrifice to strive for real unity with Europe. Would Europe be willing to give a helping hand to Ukraine and accept us into common European home in exchange for our renunciation of Communist inheritance?

Ukraine will become a full member of the European family of nations.

Obviously, this will not be enough for NATO membership. The Alliance will require 'more blood' to complete this ritual; it will demand to 'solve the Crimean and the South-East problem'. And what is left of Ukraine after settling all territorial claims on this country, maybe, that will enter the NATO, in the end.
